

This September morning for the employees of the Polotsk SMSC began with a great reason to lift their spirits!

Today, September 17, the Republic of Belarus celebrates its youngest national holiday - National Unity Day!
For many Novopolotsk residents, it began with citywide exercise under the motto "Good morning - my beloved city!"
This morning left no one indifferent! Representatives of all organizations and institutions of Novopolotsk, as well as schoolchildren and students took part in the event.
Citywide exercise has become a good tradition in our city, benefiting not only the body, but also the mind. As the saying goes: a healthy mind in a healthy body!
