

The Polotsk Center for Social and Community Services joined the republican campaign "Forest! Good! Order!"

The staff of the Polotsk Center for Social and Monthly Services (CMS) enthusiastically joined the national campaign "Forest! Good! Order!" The event took place in the Goryanskoye forestry, in the 55th quarter, section 33, where employees, together with foresters, planted young trees—the future of Belarusian forests.

Planting trees isn't just hard work; it's a contribution to the ecological well-being of the region. Oaks will become truly long-lived, strengthening the soil and creating a home for a variety of animals and birds. Spruce trees will decorate the forest and, over time, become part of the green shield protecting the air and land. Each sapling is a breath of the future, and the staff of the Polotsk Center for Social and Monthly Services are proud to be part of this important cause.

The team worked harmoniously and with great enthusiasm. A friendly atmosphere prevailed during the planting process: jokes were exchanged, impressions were shared, and help was given to each other. It was especially pleasant to see how, before our very eyes, the empty space was transformed into a young forest.
