

A historic event took place today!

The President of Belarus Alexander Lukashenko presented the first State Quality Marks for the best products of the best enterprises in the country.

The Chairman of the State Standard Elena Morgunova also took part in the ceremony: "These were unforgettable moments. Because the result was literally lived by each enterprise-owner. For the sake of this high recognition, they gathered their experience, competencies, scientific and technical potential and management technologies.

The experts did a huge job, impartially assessing the products at different levels according to five criteria. Those applicants who did not become the best now saw aspects for improvement and continuing the path to the highest peak of Belarusian quality. This is also motivated by the announced five-year quality plan.

I sincerely congratulate all holders of the State Quality Mark and wish them not to stop in this noble work, because its result is the well-being of the economy, the image of the country and, of course, high consumer confidence!"
